THREE NEBRASKANS GET LOST IN THICK FOG; SQUEEZE OUT OKAY

OMAHA (AP) — Three Nebraskans landed safely in a light plane Friday after getting out of "the tightest pinch we ever were in."

Don Vinton, Gordon, his 10-year-old son, Pat, and Joseph G. Grier, Omaha, told how they squeezed out of a thick Minnesota fog while returning Thursday from a fishing trip in Canada.

Near Duluth, Minn., their Cessna 170 single-engine plane flew into a dense fog.

"We went up to 9,000 feet, but were still in the fog," said Vinton, the pilot. "We were lost all right, because I am not an instrument man."

They radioed the Air Force base tower at Duluth, and a C-47 was sent up to lead the Nebraskans to the field. Vinton found a clear spot and there the light plane met the C-47.

The C-47, he said, led them toward Duluth, but after about three miles both planes again hit thick fog. Vinton banked away from the C-47.

"Then we lost contact with the tower," Vinton said.

Vinton, though, found another clear spot, dipped down to about 400 feet, got a bearing on the location and said he landed at McGregor, Minn.

GOP's 'Top' Strategist Says No One Else Eyed

U.S. ATTORNEY GENERAL MAKES STATEMENT IN INTERVIEW HERE

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

President Eisenhower will run for re-election in 1956, U. S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. said in an interview here Friday afternoon.

"The chances of the Republican Party in 1956 are excellent," he said.

"No one in the party is even considering any other than Eisenhower as a candidate."

Brownell is recognized by many as the best political strategist in the Republican party.

He has been closely associated with Republican Presidential races since 1944.

It was generally recognized that it was Brownell's strategy that brought the 1952 nomination to Eisenhower on the first ballot at the Republican convention. He has been an active Eisenhower supporter since 1951.

Brownell served as chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1944 and was re-elected in 1948, for the two races in which former New York governor Thomas E. Dewey was the candidate.

As to the 1956 congressional outcome, Brownell stated, "the party whose presidential candidate is elected usually wins the Congress also."

He declined to guess the majority of victory in Congress as he said with a grin, "51 per cent is enough, you know."

Pointing to the success of Eisenhower's "Peace and Prosperity" program, Brownell said that segregation has been materially reduced, the "wetback" problems of the border states have been solved and the activity of the Communist Party has been "severely crippled."

Hopes Segregation No Issue

The hope was expressed by Brownell that the problem of segregation does not become a political issue. The present administration, he said, has been very successful in eliminating segregation in Washington, has nearly completed its anti-segregation program in the armed services and has made great strides against segregation in the schools.

Brownell said the justice department is now specializing in anti-trust matters. A clarification of the anti-trust laws, he said, will

CRACK-DOWN ON LOOSE DOGS NEAR

Harold Deacon, Humane Society superintendent, said he expects to file complaints shortly in Municipal Court against several violators of the city's new dog ordinance.

The new ordinance stipulates that no dog can run at large and if taken off its master's property, must be on a leash.

"Public cooperation has been wonderful," Deacon said, "but there are a few cases in which something just has to be done now. Most of the difficulty is in southeast Lincoln."

Conviction of violation of the ordinance carries a possible penalty of up to $100 fine.

Deacon also said that a house-to-house canvass of the city would soon be started to enforce the dog license law. There are a number of dogs that don't have licenses, he said.

The fine for no license is $1 to $25. An unlicensed dog may also be impounded which requires a $5 fee to retrieve the animal.

$1 Billion In Cocaine At Border

Two Smugglers Nabbed In N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal authorities reported Friday that a narcotics syndicate has a billion dollars worth of cocaine stored in Mexico for smuggling into the United States.

The report came with the disclosure that officers have already seized one shipment, worth $2,500,000 and tabbed the biggest ever netted in this country.

Federal authorities in Brooklyn said the shipment was found with the arrest of two messengers who brought the cocaine to New York City from Mexico.

It was indicated also that officials know the identity of the syndicate's chief, identified only as a "Senor X," and are on the lookout for him.

Secret Arrest

Operations of the vast dope enterprise were made public Friday when a sealed indictment, charging the two messengers with various federal narcotics law violations, was opened in Brooklyn federal court.

Their arrest had been kept secret since May 18 to permit authorities to try to nab the syndicate leader. However, he apparently got wind of developments and called off a projected trip to this country.

Those under arrest were identified as Manuel Mendez Marfa, 31, of Havana, Cuba; and Miguel Angel Gonzalez y Hernandez, also 31, of Mexico City.

They were said to have come here by commercial airlines, smuggling the cocaine in false-bottom suitcases.

The cocaine totaled 5 1/2 pounds. Its value was predicated on the price it would bring after being "cut"—that is, adulterated or diluted with other materials—and sold to narcotics addicts.

1956 Wheat Support Cut To 76% Of Parity

... Growers Ballot On Quotas June 25

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Friday announced that a minimum support price for wheat on the 1956 crop will be 76 per cent of parity compared with 82 1/2 per cent on the 1955 crop.

Immediately following the release of the monthly crop report Friday, the department said the minimum national average support price for 1956 crop wheat will be $1.81 cents a bushel if acreage quotas are approved in the June 25 referendum.

This compares with an average of $2.06 for the 1955 crop.

On June 25, wheat farmers of the nation will go to the polls to see if the wheat quota system under which individual farmers are restricted to a certain acreage is to be continued in 1956.

Continuance will require a two-thirds vote of approval.

If quotas are not approved, the available support level under present legislation will be at 50 per cent of parity or about $1.19 a bushel on the basis of present parity estimates.

The department took Friday's action under the flexible price support program which went into effect this year. Wheat during war and post war years had been supported at 90 per cent of parity until this year when Secretary Benson set the figure at 82 1/2 per cent of parity.

The House earlier this year approved legislation to restore the 90 per cent minimum supports on the basic commodities including wheat, but indications are that the Senate will take no action this year.

Wind and dust storms aggravated the spring drought damage to winter wheat, Anderson noted. Cutworms also have proved "pretty bad" and some rust is reported in southeast Nebraska.

Not All Bad

The wheat picture isn't all bad however, Anderson indicated.

Summer fallow wheat has improved and is still improving and enough moisture from rains since mid-May should be on hand to finish the crop, he said.

Soil conditions are good for sorghum, soybeans and corn, although subsoil moisture may be short for the corn.

Wind and dust storms aggravated the spring drought damage to winter wheat, Anderson noted. Cutworms also have proved "pretty bad" and some rust is reported in southeast Nebraska.

-Retesting- Vaccine Supply Dries Up

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Public Health Service said Friday that not a single new dose of Salk polio vaccine from any manufacturer is ready for release at the present time.

Dr. William A. Shannon, associate director of the National Institutes of Health, told newsmen: "A lot of retesting has to be done."

Shannon's disclosure that the vaccine supply has dried up came after a news conference at which Public Health Service officials admitted the inoculation program threatened to collapse last month because both the government and the manufacturers "fell into a trap."

Shannon and Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele said the "trap" was over-confidence in the sensitivity of the original safety tests.

2nd Shots

Scheele declined to make a prediction as to when more vaccine will be released for the millions of school children now awaiting second shots.

But after the conference, Shannon disclosed that when a high-level scientific panel met here Wednesday to consider releasing more vaccine it had "nothing" to study in the way of production and testing reports.

Shannon said first there is "not going to be a terrific amount of vaccine released in the next few days." Asked whether manufacturers have requested clearance of any new Salk shots, Shannon replied: "No."

The clearance requests are made in the form of lengthy "protocols" which detail the progress of the vaccine from the early stages of production to the safety tests of the finished product.

'Complete'

Shannon revealed that not a single protocol with "complete" information has been received from any manufacturer. He said this includes the protocols which the Eli Lilly Co., of Indianapolis, announced earlier in the week have been transmitted to Washington, covering more than three million doses.

Scheele also revealed that "six young scientists" will be assigned to the plants which manufacture Salk vaccine to work hand-in-hand with the producers and report back frequently to Washington on the developments.

President Eisenhower was assured Friday that the Salk polio vaccine "will fulfill its bright promise" and that the unexpected troubles which created hazards are being overcome.

Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby presented to the chief executive at the weekly cabinet meeting the Public Health Service "white paper" summing up the lessons learned from the rush to make the anti-polio drug available in massive quantity.

After a week Strawn was sent back into the mainland to guerrilla headquarters where he met some Americans. In two months the guerrillas became so strong that they formed a defense perimeter on the beach while U.S. gun boats and landing barges unloaded supplies. An American ship evacuated him.

Before leaving he wrote down Bamer's address. The two kept up a steady correspondence.

3 Stockmen Honored For Improving Breed

Three Nebraska stockmen were honored Friday night for contributions during the past year to improvement of the breeds of cattle in which they specialize.

Orvil E. Kuhlmann of North Platte received the fourth annual award of merit as a Hereford breeder. Burt Randall of Unadilla received the fourth annual Aberdeen-Angus award of merit. And Carl Retzlaff of Walton won the second annual Shorthorn breeders award.

Connie McGinley of Valentine was presented the Youth of the Year Award. She has been a member of the Junior Stock Growers Association for six years and has served on every committee in the group. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McGinley.

Juniors receiving honorable mention were Walt Merrihew, Ashby; Dave Younk, Alliance; Merton Dierks, Ewing; LeNette Wiese, Cascade; Mayr Ann Lemmon, Crawford; Gary Trego, Sutherland; Frank Orr, Lakeside; Charles Drybread, Valentine; Donald Briggs, Alliance; Lora Jane Baskin, Stapleton; Janice Heinz, Henry and Clark Schaffert, Dalton.

Membership Awards went to W. B. Pearson of Brownlee, first; Robert W. Ross of Gordon, second and Martin Vierson of North Platte, third. The awards are in recognition of efforts in acquainting non-members with the services of the association.

The presentations were made at the annual banquet of the Nebraska Stock Breeders Assn., held at its 66th annual convention in Lincoln.

The banquet, with humorist-philosopher Tom Collins of Kansas City as speaker, rounded out a day devoted to speeches by leaders in the industry and other guests, including U.S. Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr.

The convention will end with a business meeting Saturday.

JANUARY IN JUNE GOES ON

Cornhuskerland's cloudy, cool climate will continue through Saturday.

The weatherman says there will be more scattered showers during the day with the eastern area to continue showery Saturday night.

Lincoln received a brief shower Friday night that left .03 of an inch of moisture downtown.

Showers fell in most areas of the state at some time Friday. Hebron received the biggest rain totaling one inch.

Alliance reported .70 and Valentine .79. Lincoln got only a trace of rain.

The thermometer reached 69 at the Lincoln airport for the state's high reading. But the mercury never climbed out of the 50s in the western end of the state, after dropping to a chilly low of 42 at Imperial and Sidney.

Saturday's highs are expected to be in the lower 60s.

The unseasonably cool weather is being caused by a cold high pressure ridge reaching down from just west of Hudson Bay through the western Dakotas, western Nebraska, western Kansas and western Texas.

The low pressure area that has been causing the spotty rains now is centered in northern Arkansas.

Postal Pay Hike Gets Ike's O.K.

Half Million Workers To Benefit

... It's Retroactive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's signature Friday brought final approval of an average 8 per cent pay increase for half a million postal workers, ending months of squabbling over the issue.

The approved bill may set the pattern for a similar pay hike for a million classified Civil Service workers. Their bill is now pending in a House committee.

The President, who vetoed two postal pay hikes over the past 10 months, called the final act "the greatest forward step for our postal employees in more than a century."

Average $320
Annual increases will range from $160 to $4,400, with the average about $320.

Postmaster General Summerfield immediately announced a 6 per cent increase for all postal workers will take effect in paychecks for the period beginning June 16.

Lump sum payments for the retroactive feature of the pay hike, which goes back to March 1, will be handed out July 15.

In addition to the general 6 per cent boost the bill provides for a broad reshuffling of postal job classifications. This amounts to an extra 2 per cent pay hike on the average, although the increase will be much more than that for some workers, especially supervisory employees.

The reclassification increases will take effect next December.

Altogether, the bill will cost the government about 164 million dollars a year, assuming adding that amount to the chronic postal deficit which totaled 400 millions over the last full financial year.

The retroactive payments will amount to 40 million dollars.

Ike To Make Major Atom Talk Today

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (INS) — President Eisenhower will deliver a "major speech of international significance" on atoms for peace at the Pennsylvania State University commencement Saturday.

A White House spokesman indicated in disclosing the general theme of the commencement address Friday night that Mr. Eisenhower may make some new announcement concerning this country's program for peaceful use of atomic energy.

The President will inspect the university's new $300,000 nuclear reactor before addressing the 1,828 members of the graduating class over a nationwide radio network.

He held a quiet family reunion on the campus Friday with two of his brothers, Milton and Earl, after flying up from Washington in his new light plane. Milton is president of the university.

Little Man Who Wasn't There Left Heavy Clue

WELLINGTON, N. Z. (INS) — John McKay, a New Zealand businessman, was having a "friendly few" in a Wellington bar when he heard a distinct click, as though an ice cube had fallen on the floor.

He glanced down. He was sure he was sober. Yet he distinctly saw a forty-pound ball and chain locked around his left ankle.

He heard a scurrying. He glanced up and saw the coat-tails of a "small dark man" shoot out the door.

Picking up the heavy ball, McKay hobbled out to his car at the curb to race after the rapidly disappearing little man.

But the ball and chain tangled in his accelerator and brake before he could get started. The little man vanished in a quickly-gathering crowd.

McKay then untangled the chain, lifted the ball, and worked his way from the car. He lumbered to the nearest city traffic police station. A constable smashed him free with a heavy hammer.

Police kept the ball and chain as potential evidence. McKay was last reported still looking for the dark little man.

Dr. Cook addressed the group, meeting in Lincoln, Friday evening at their banquet. Society gives the delinquent a "glacial reception" and an "evangelical stiff arm" when he comes out, he said.

Man Fails Lie Test In Girls' Death

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (INS) — State police said Friday a 29-year-old electrician failed a lie detector test when questioned about the kidnap-murder of eight-year-old Jeannie Singleton.

Stanley Edgerton, an employee of a Kalamazoo pharmaceutical plant, was rushed to the state police laboratory in East Lansing for further tests after he failed a lie detector exam Friday.

Edgerton, who is married and the father of two children, admitted he was the mysterious "man with the maniacal laugh" who had been sought for accosting other girls on the day Jeannie disappeared, only a block from where she was last seen.

Artists' Sketch

The suspect surrendered to Kalamazoo police when he saw an artist's conception, printed in the local paper, of the man described by several girls as the one who tried to lure them into his car.

Edgerton told police the prime reason for surrendering was to assist police in the search for Jeannie's slayer. He denied knowing anything about the murder but when asked that question on the lie detector, the polygraph indicated he was not telling the truth.

Detroit police immediately attempted to learn if Edgerton had been in Detroit last March 24 when seven-year-old Barbara Gaca was kidnapped and slain in much the same manner as Jeannie.

Funds For Power Line Refused By House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee voted in effect Friday to strand the Dixon-Yates power project in the middle of the Mississippi River.

It refused to approve $6,500,000 requested by President Eisenhower to build a transmission line to carry power from the proposed Dixon-Yates plant to West Memphis, Ark., into the Tennessee Valley Authority distribution system.

Instead, it diverted the $6,500,000 to start construction of a TVA steam plant at Fulton, Tenn., to furnish power which the Dixon-Yates plant would have provided.

Under provisions of a contract the Dixon-Yates group has with the Atomic Energy Commission, the private utility operators are supposed to build a transmission line to the middle of the Mississippi River, with the TVA picking up the power at that point.

23 to 19 Vote

The 23-to-19 vote by which the committee decided to choke off the Dixon-Yates project forecast a sharp battle when the House itself votes late next week. It will be the first time the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress has had an opportunity to vote on the controversial Dixon-Yates contract which was approved indirectly by the Republican-dominated 83rd Congress.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) declared the committee action "kills the Dixon-Yates deal because it doesn't give them an outlet for their power."

Cannon predicted that the House would uphold the committee, but conceded the outcome would be close.

Says Unneeded Now

"There is no need for Dixon-Yates," he said. "The Fulton plant can provide the necessary power."

Rep. Phillips (R-Calif.), who fought against the action behind the closed doors of the committee, said he was confident the House would uphold the committee.

"And if it doesn't, there's no doubt that the Senate will upset it," Phillips added.

Voting to build the Fulton plant instead of the new TVA transmission line to the Dixon-Yates project were 22 Democrats and one Republican. Voting against it were 15 Republicans and 4 Democrats. Four Democrats and 4 Republicans were absent or not voting.

Whatever the outcome of the House voting, the Dixon-Yates project shapes up as a major political issue in the 1956 election, with Democrats denouncing it as one-sided in favor of private utilities and Republicans upholding it as favorable to the government.

Brownell

Taking a backhanded swing at the Democrats, Brownell said that when the present administration went into office the anti-trust policies of the government "were so confusing that businessmen did not know what they could do within the framework of the law."

Addresses Stock Growers

In an address before the 66th annual convention of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association earlier in the day, Brownell asserted that internal revenue scandals which began to be uncovered three years ago dwarf even the tea pot dome scandal in several respects.

"The extent of the corruption, the size of the bribes, the scope of the crimes, the number of people involved and the duration of the conspiracy dwarf the tea pot dome scandal to a tempest in a teapot," he declared.

Referring back to what he described as lax law enforcement in years past, Brownell said, "enforcement must not be a respecter of person, parties, classes or organizations. Violations of law cannot be ignored with impunity."

Brownell cited past enforcement records showing not one single Justice Department case filed against violation of the anti-racketeering statutes in 1945, 1946, 1947 and 1952. One such case was filed in 1948 and one in 1949, 1950 and 1951, he said.

On the contrary, he said, the department since January of 1953 has obtained approximately 70 anti-racketeering indictments charging 149 defendants.

Brownell reviewed a series of the more important cases handled by his department in the recent past.

He also explained to the stock growers the government's own cattle and agricultural program which provides food for inmates of federal institutions.

This government activity, including a herd of 2,600 beef cattle, saves the taxpayers more than $1 million a year, he said.

Menon Arrives For U.S. Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian foreign affairs adviser, flew in from Montreal Friday night. He has a date with United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld here Saturday and with President Eisenhower in Washington Tuesday.

Menon arrived fresh from secret talks with Western leaders in Britain and Canada. He is on a trouble-shooting mission, trying to ease tension between Communist China and the West.

Newsman Barred

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Yugoslavia has denied a Swiss newspaper permission to maintain a correspondent here permanently on the ground its reporting of events in this country was "unobjective, malicious and systematically tendentious."

Escapes Nabbed

BEDFORD, Ky. (AP) — Two life term escapees from the LaGrange State Reformatory, a murderer and a rapist, surrendered without a struggle when sheriff's officers surprised them in a farm building.

Sheriff Clarence Egerton listed them as John William Hall, 36, of Ashland, sentenced for murder, and Leonard McKinney, 31, of McKee, sentenced for rape. Meantime, at Smithfield in adjoining Henry County, state police and local officers were in hot pursuit of two other escapees.

'Bungling' By GOP Is Making Demo Votes, Says HST

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Republican "bungling" is "making more Democratic votes than I possibly could in two campaigns," former President Harry Truman said Friday.

En route to Portland for a speech Saturday night, Truman told a reporter at a transiade news conference that the Eisenhower administration has "bungled the polio vaccine like it's bungled nearly everything else it's undertaken."

He recalled that in the 1952 presidential campaign he said at the dedication of Hungry Horse Dam in Montana that if the Republicans won there would be no more multipurpose dams in the Northwest for a long time to come.

"I'll have plenty to say about that in my speech tomorrow night," he said.

In answer to a question about indications that Russia is following a "softer" foreign policy, he said, "I hope it's real."

"It's one of the finest things that could happen. It's what we've been working for years."

Boldness Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling for "bold steps to let the world know that we want peace," Rep. Elliot (D-Ala) suggested that President Eisenhower visit Russia after the Big Four talks.

"His trip might be the stroke that would bring peace to the world for years to come," Elliot wrote in a letter to constituents.

Production Drops

DETROIT (INS) — Ward's Automotive Reports, the industry's statistical agency, said U.S. car and truck production will be 16 per cent below pre-Memorial Day levels this week because of labor trouble at Ford and General Motors.

Demo Urges Increase In A-Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) said Friday "it is now apparent there will have to be an increase in the United States atomic weapons production schedule."

The senator emphasized he was talking about the whole family of atomic weapons and said "we may have to provide for additional new production facilities."

He said this must be in addition to the increased production of jet military aircraft just announced.

Jackson talked to newsmen after a secret session of the Senate House Atomic Energy subcommittee that he heads. The subcommittee deals with military applications of atomic energy.

Faster Rate

He previously had urged that this country start building jet aircraft at a much faster rate. He did this shortly after reports of the greatly advanced Russian jet planes were made public.

Friday, Jackson reiterated his belief that the only way America can keep ahead of Russia in the air is "to step up vastly our production of modern jet aircraft—both fighters and intercontinental bombers."

As for atomic weapons, he said this country cannot hope to match the Soviets in manpower and that it must concentrate on maintaining a heavy edge in firepower.

Guatemala Talks Begin

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U. S. began negotiations Friday on a military assistance agreement with Guatemala. The State and Defense Departments said the meetings in Guatemala City are for the purpose of including "A bilateral military assistance agreement between the United States and Guatemala." Similar agreements have been signed by the U.S. with 11 other Latin American republics.

Dulles To Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles plans to deliver a foreign policy speech Sunday night at the University of Indiana's baccalaureate services.

The secretary is scheduled to receive an honorary degree from the university Monday on the 50th anniversary of the day his great grandfather, former Secretary of State John Watson Foster, received such an honor from the same university.

Great Importance

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — James W. Riddleberger, U.S. ambassador to Yugoslavia, said he attached "the greatest importance" to the visit Russian leaders paid last month to Yugoslavia.

"When the Soviet top command comes right out and admits to the world that it is wrong, I call that fantastic," Riddleberger said in an interview with the Troy Times-Record. "But believe me, I attach the greatest importance to it."

Steelworker Official Is Tagged Red

WASHINGTON (INS) — A former undercover agent Friday accused CIO steelworkers political action director John Mullen of being a Communist and of having tried to frame Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Mummario.

The charge was made before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee by John A. Mazzei, who identified himself as an FBI informant in the Communist Party from 1941 to 1953. He said Mullen was a Communist functionary and had a hand in efforts against Mummario.

Mazzei's testimony was supported by two other ex-Communists—his wife, Mary E. Mazzei and lecturer Matthew Cvetec.

Mummario took the stand to brand as "shocking and inexplicable" Mullen's charge in 1953 that the Justice Department tried to induce him to drop accusations he made in a bribery case.

'First Time'

Mullen, former mayor of Clairton, Pa., was disclosed Friday to have testified in a closed-door session that he is not a Communist. He is expected to testify in a public hearing Saturday.

He told reporters: "This is the first time I ever saw this man (Mazzei) in my life. I never knew him."

CIO steelworkers president David J. McDonald issued a statement in Mullen's defense. McDonald declared: "I have known John Mullen personally for 20 years. I have the most complete confidence in him."

Under cross-examination, Mazzei contradicted Mullen's statement that they had never met. He said he was introduced to the union official in 1944 as "Comrade" Mullen.

Twelve pages of wholesome colored comics, feature stories with plenty of pictures and the big entertainment section are a few reasons why nearly every one reads The "Sunday Journal and Star."

500 Monks Battle In Streets Of Seoul; 25 Injured

SEOUL (AP)—Three hundred married Buddhist monks battled 200 fasting, unmarried monks and nuns for an hour Friday in an attempt to drive the bachelor priests out of a downtown Seoul temple. Fifty police finally broke up the fight.

Twenty-five participants were injured, some seriously. Thirty others were taken to police headquarters for questioning.

A 47-year-old monk, slashed in the abdomen, and a 64-year-old nun, severely mauled, were reported in critical condition.

A few months ago, unmarried monks took over the temple after the government forcibly removed the married monks. The government has issued orders for married monks to be out of more than 1,000 temples in South Korea by June 30.

A spokesman for the married group said that wives and families would be removed but that bachelors and divorced monks within their group would remain as "resident priests."

The unmarried monks in the Seoul temple started a fast yesterday saying it was a protest against defiance of government orders by the married monks. It was during a fasting session that the married monks staged Friday's raid.

Sen. Shultz Gets Sign Souvenirs

Sen. L. M. Shultz of Rogers got a couple of souvenirs Friday — A pair of Highway Department signs that misspelled the name of the senator's home town.

As Sen. Shultz explained it, he recently joshed State Engineer L. N. Riss about the signs at the edge of Rogers which read: "Rogers, Pop: 120."

Friday, to the senator's surprise, he was called before the Legislature and presented the misspelled signs, neatly gift wrapped, as proof that the wrong had been righted.

Sen. K. W. Peterson of Sargent made the presentation on behalf of Riss.

Omahan Re-Instated On Old Age Aid Rolls

The Lancaster District Court ordered the name of August Walberg of Omaha to be re-instated on the old age assistance rolls at the request of Douglas County officials.

The order was handed down by Judge Harry Spencer.

Douglas County requested a writ of mandamus in the action after Walberg's name was removed from the assistance rolls for a year, beginning July, 1954, because he was receiving Old Age Survivor's Insurance under the Social Security Act.

It was claimed Walberg had been given no chance to defend himself and that there had been no hearing on the matter.

Defendants in the case were W. H. Diers, Catherine N. Martin, and Thomas J. Dredla Sr., members of the Board of Control, and Welfare Director Mayme Stukel.

Certain Cleanliness In Jails Must Be Maintained—Filipe

A jail needn't be outfitted like the Waldorf-Astoria, but there are certain standards of sanitation that should be observed.

That's the word of T. A. Filipe, director of the division of sanitation of the State Health Department.

Filipe made the remarks Friday to the semi-annual meeting of the District Judges Association.

The state sanitarian told the judges they are responsible for setting down the rules of house-keeping of all jails, city and county alike. There are no authorities set up, though, Filipe said, to see that these rules are enforced.

4 a Year

Filipe counseled the 25 judges attending the meeting that they should inform their county commissioners it is their duty to visit their respective jails four times a year. Under state law, he said, they should make visits each January, April, July, and October.

The judges honored at a luncheon Jack Wilson, president of the State Bar Association, George Turner, secretary of the state bar, and Atty. Robert Van Pelt, chairman of the Bar's judiciary committee. Honors also were given retired Judges Louis Lightner of Columbus and Mark Ryan of South Sioux City.

Saturday morning, Sen. Robert Browder of Fullerton will speak to the judges on new laws and judicial problems.

Presiding over the meetings is Judge Cloyd B. Ellis, association vice president and District Court judge from Beatrice.

Party Of Interest

Arch Donovan reports that an unidentified member of the Unicameral Legislature was complaining Thursday because, he said, the "heat had been turned on" in connection with approval or rejection of the pending ton-mile tax bill. It is a little bit difficult to shed any tears over this development. First it was the railroads who took to the postcard trail to bring pressure for passage of the bill, the senator was quoted as saying.

Now it is another group, writing letters and calling by telephone in opposition to the measure. Naturally it is and it should be the purpose of the Legislature to weigh the equities of the proposal. There is, we believe, no disposition to be unfair with the truckers or the railroads, which happen to be rivals in a business sense. If the pressure group is becoming an increasing problem in transaction of business of the Unicameral, it is because the members give undue attention to groups of this character.

There is another party of interest in legislation, or at least should be. That is the general public. It is not primarily what is best for the railroads or best for the truckers or best for any other isolated group. Approval or rejection of the ton-mile tax should be determined, difficult though it may be, by what is best for all Nebraskans.

Hatten's Good Advice

William C. Hatten, a Chicago truck driver, climbed out from behind the wheel the other day to celebrate an unusual event.

He had just completed 1,500,000 miles of driving without a serious accident. To him it was just another welcome landmark in a long-range safe-driving career that has won a host of trophies and national recognition. He does not intend to rest on his laurels. He makes a living by driving down the road and he intends to keep doing so as long as he is able—free of accidents, too, he hopes.

Hatten's experience on the road is in sharp contrast to that of so many who drive their cars into tragedy, who contribute their bit to the serious national problem of highway safety. Probably he knows the fundamentals. Certainly if others could boast of his record, there would be no highway problem.

When he completed his 1,500,000 miles, he had but one piece of advice for the rest of us. He said he gave driving his undivided attention and added, "I always drive as if everyone else on the road is going to do the unexpected."

Perhaps Hatten has been lucky. But his advice recommends itself to everyone who slides behind the wheel. We are quite sure that all of us who are planning on going places this summer will have a much better chance of returning from those places if we heed it.

In Livestock Business

The distinguished attorney general of the United States, Nebraska-born Herbert Brownell, came home Friday to address a meeting of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association in Lincoln.

He was surprised, he said, to discover when he became attorney general in January of 1953 that the job involved supervision over substantial cattle and farming operations. That comes about because the attorney general is overseer of operations of the Federal Prisons Bureau, which in turn has "large and important" agricultural operations designed to aid in the rehabilitation of prisoners. "Farmer" Brownell told the livestock growers the Prisons Bureau cultivates more than 12,000 acres of land, the prison farms have 2,500 head of beef cattle, lots of hogs, more than 30,000 chickens, along with ducks, turkeys and even rabbits.

In becoming humility, and perhaps remembering there are ranch holdings in this state four or five times the size of Uncle Sam's prison cultivated acres, the attorney general assured his listeners he had not come to Nebraska to advise the growers on how to raise cattle.

Large and important agricultural operations, we assume, are wholly relative. What may be huge or big to one actually is piddling to another. That is a part of the complicated farm program. Mr. Brownell did not intend to be taken too seriously in his supervisory job and chances are that those who heard him will not do so.

Speaking of large and important agricultural operations, we recall that during the war years in the Republican Valley one hog-grower marketed thousands of head of hogs each year. In his greatest single year, he was said to have handled 50,000 head. And in the days of the Old West and the open range, the cowhands stood guard over huge herds of cattle which in the course of a summer ranged far and wide in the beautiful valley of the Nebraska Sandhills.

By Degrees

Alger Hiss, a former state department employee who served a prison sentence for perjury, was back in court again this week, pleading guilty. This time it was for playing ball with his 13 year old son in a prohibited park area. He still hasn't shaken his penchant for getting out of bounds but this time he has a sympathetic public. That is generally the semi-final stage on the way to full redemption.

Editorial Of The Day

Bulging WACs

(From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

From time to time comes a dispatch telling of the trim-figure troubles tormenting the WACs. Not so long ago the Army threatened that those women soldiers who did not keep their weight "well distributed" and "within limits" would face reducing diets and compulsory exercise.

Then a former chief quartermaster, Maj. Gen. Herman Feldman, charged that WACs ate three times as much as the men and were always loading up at the post exchange, all of which caused them "to bulge out in the wrong places."

But now comes Lt. Col. Eleanor C. Sullivan, commanding the new WAC center at Ft. McClellan at Anniston, Ala., with a statement that throws real light on the WAC obesity situation. She explains that when the center was built, a kitchen was added to each floor of each barracks—not for meals, which are served in dining halls, but for sparetime cooking.

As she put it: "One of the most natural instincts in women is to cook a little something now and then. Women just want to whip something up every so often."

Yes, sergeant, it looks like calisthenics, doubletime and long hikes every so often would be sort of natural for the girls who like to whip up "something" in those little kitchens for following the instincts.

Knowland-Nixon Feud At Hot Blast

WASHINGTON — It is now well known that the feud between the two gentlemen from California, Sen. Knowland and Vice President Nixon, is one of the most vitriolic in the capital. However, it is not generally known that Nixon has been making it clear with Capitol Hill colleagues that as far as Eisenhower is concerned, he is winning the feud.

At a recent off-the-record luncheon with other members of Congress, the vice president not only needed his fellow Republican from California, but posed as the spokesman for Ike, and gave advice that Knowland would have to pipe down on his criticism.

"The President wonders when his own party leaders keep opposing his major policies in international affairs," said Nixon, obviously referring to his colleague from California, "whether he is not in an anomalous position, and whether he is not divorced from at least an important sector of his party. In any event, he feels this kind of criticism very deeply — it hurts."

A congressman wanted to know whether it also hurt the President to hear Sen. McCarthy sounding off with one of his diatribes against Ike.

"Anything McCarthy says doesn't bother the President in the least — if he notices it at all," replied Nixon. "But with a top man like Knowland — that's different."

RAYBURN ON HIGHWAYS

You can jot it down that Congress will pass some kind of a super-highway bill during this session. In talks with GOP congressional leaders, President Eisenhower has put the highway program almost at the top of his list of "must" bills. The other day Ike received some unexpected aid from Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

At a closed-door huddle with Democratic members of the House Public Works Committee, Rayburn was plainly nettled by the committee's delay in reporting a highway bill.

"If the House doesn't enact a bill, we will be playing into the hands of the Republicans," warned the Texan. "They will be in a position to say that we Democrats used our majority in the House to prevent action on highway legislation. I know you fellows have a lot of things to do, but please make this the first order of business. Time's running out."

Rayburn didn't blueprint the line he expected the House bill to follow. In fact, he and others at the meeting voiced general approval of the over-all objectives of the 10-year, $27 billion program of super roads proposed by the Eisenhower administration.

However, the speaker strongly objected to the administration's formula for financing highway construction — namely, by the establishment of a corporation which would sell bonds to pay for the federal share of the program.

"I can't understand that kind of bookkeeping," exploded the Texan. "The American taxpayers are the ones who will eventually have to pay for this road-building, whether or not the administration tries to hide the fact by the establishment of a corporation or some other device."

DORIS FLESON

Press Censorship Makes Sense To GOP

WASHINGTON — The question has been put to President Eisenhower whether the administration has or has not interfered with the social relationships of his people with reporters. The President laughed and referred the question to his press secretary, James C. Haggerty.

Mr. Haggerty concedes that "four or five" top officials of the Central Intelligence Agency have been warned to be careful in their contacts with reporters. The warning, he said, followed publication of a report which the President thought should not have been published.

It is no secret that hot-tempered calls from the President to the Pentagon about such matters have been fairly frequent. To this extent, he is military-minded.

Perhaps he is right; only full knowledge of each incident would tell. Perhaps, also, he remembers his halcyon years as supreme commander when he and all that he did were protected from public view in a manner forever denied a U.S. president.

The President's military habit of going through channels is happily followed by his business-minded administration. Virtually all his top appointees are from big corporations whose motto is: "Does Macy tell Gimbels?" They brought here the attitude that the government is just another corporation, only bigger; that the new corporation's problems are strictly the new corporation's affair.

They try with considerable success to present a united front to those nosey reporters and they seem to feel that the natives are hostile. For example, Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr. took a fancy to Georgetown but her husband, now undersecretary of state, vetoed her on the ground that too many New Dealers live there.

Since they are so much the same kind of people, their clan spirit was inevitable. Less attractive is the conviction they often display that somehow they and their president are not just preferable to their predecessors but inherently nobler. Their lack of humor about themselves and the very human business of politics is sometimes quite staggering.

A reporter who tried to jest with Secretary of the Navy Thomas about the wonderful asset which went with his job, the yacht, Sequoia, was sternly told, "In this administration we use the Sequoia strictly for business." The answer of course is, I guess, so.

Republican politicians complain almost as much as reporters about "the team" but less publicly. One of them says that if the effort to make him feel like a waterboy was a conscious one he could fight back better. They feel forced to conceal their unhappiness but they secretly enjoy Sen. Knowland's refusal to join in the chorus of adulation for the President.

It may be that the team is more efficient about the public's business. Most politicians doubt it. What the "London Economist" calls so aptly, "the juice of human personality" is missing and the President is insulated from a give and take conflict and opinion that would give him a far better perspective on his work and his people.

In Step With The Sower

The little bird that frequently furnishes the Sower with information bid us adieu several days ago saying that he was fearful of the flying saucers that have been filling the air for several weeks. A check revealed that they were only buttons and that they were only buttons and that the bird still considered them dangerous.

A search revealed that the source of the flying buttons was the manly chest of Grandpappy C. J. Sanders. In fact, so many of his shirts and blouses were casualties that Mrs. Sanders had to remain over a day, busy with her sewing basket, before she could take off by air to visit the new grandson, Carl John Kettener, in Phoenix, Ariz.

But, typical of the amateur grandfather, the Safety Patrol head could not withstand doing a little boasting and predicting (all wrong) for several weeks in advance of the blessed event.

The Colonel was positive he was going to catch up with the Sower and other members of the Grandfathers and Grandmothers club at the Capitol by starting off with twins. He was equally positive of the time of arrival as June 13, which is his birthday.

But the stork refused to co-operate and the eight-pound boy arrived on June 2. Carl will complain because we cannot rattle off the ounces and fractions like he does. When he gets to be a great-grandfather, like the Sower, he will learn that the ounces throughout life are, after all, insignificant.

Are lobbyists necessary?

Sen. Lester Anderson of Aurora, serving his fifth term in the Legislature, answered with a vehement "yes." He points to his bill placing sanitary standards and regulation of restaurants under the Health Department rather than the Department of Agriculture and Inspection as an example.

The Aurora hotelman says he has proven the need of pressure groups to his own satisfaction with the bill which was killed this week. He points out that the bill was the result of several years of study by himself and while backed by no group did not have any opposition at the public hearing.

No one was providing steak dinners for the senators, he said, or "picking up the tab" for breakfast, lunch or dinner. He said that as a result no one seemed to think it important. "It is designed to eliminate duplication in government, lower costs and protect the public," he explained.

"When the traveling public visits a restaurant with no lavatory facilities for either themselves or the employees, I want them to know that it is not my fault," he continued. "Maybe there was pressure from those not wanting to lose political jobs and maybe it was just lack of lobbying the lawmakers."

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Faith Of Our Fathers

Faith of our fathers! living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword;
Oh, how our hearts beat high with joy
When'er we hear that glorious word:
Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

Our fathers, chained in prisons dark,
Were still in heart and conscience free;
How sweet would be their children's fate,
If they, like them, could die for thee!

Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

Faith of our fathers! we will love
Both friend and foe in all our strife;
And preach thee, too, as love knows how,
By kindly deed and virtuous life:
Faith of our fathers! holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

By HORACE B. POWELL

Protestantism has no finer or more popular hymn than "Faith Of Our Fathers," written more than a century ago by a Catholic—Frederick William Faber—just after he had given up an Episcopal rectory to join the Roman Church.

It was at Oxford, from which he was graduated in 1836, that Faber found his first interest in Catholicism—an interest which was whetted by a European tour which he made in 1839, following his ordination to the Episcopal priesthood. Returning from his trip he served very successfully for a time as rector at Elton, England. But always he was troubled by religious doubts and misgivings and finally, one mid-November Sabbath evening in 1845, he told his parishioners that he had decided to become a Catholic. That very week he joined a Catholic Church in Northampton.

Faber's hymns, free from limiting creeds and denominational barriers and prejudices, are precious to Christians of every faith and sect. In most of his songs, the hymnist has sung of his own spiritual reactions and longings.

License Law

Big Springs, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The bane of democratic society is law perverted from its proper function and made the tool for advancing and entrenching privileges and powers of individuals or groups. This perversion of law is the bulwark of evils which law is supposed to punish.

Such law is the Nebraska Real Estate License Law. It creates privileges under which persons may practice with impunity. The real object of such law is to wipe out personal rights and individual liberty. Evidence that this object is accomplished under the Real Estate License Law has been ignored by the lawmakers in the last two terms of the Legislature. Senators refuse to initiate or support effective corrective measures. The lawmakers, with an exception or two, need an education in the proper functions of law in democratic society.

Highway No. 6

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I think most readers will agree that our State Highway No. 6 leading eastward should be a four-lane highway and that suitable protection should be afforded at the many dangerous curves where the embankments should bear the sign: "This way to the nearest morgue."

There's a highway out of Lincoln, It is captioned Number Six, A two-lane dangerous highway They often have to fix.

They have surfaced it but recently Around some snake-like curves, Where unprotected embankments Shatter strongest nerves.

There's a dump just east of Ashland, A sorry sight to see, To welcome westbound travelers Who seek a picnic tree.

The hogs and cattle passengers Care not on their last ride And monopolize the highway, This cannot be denied.

Now, what we bipped want to know Is why our engineers Don't widen out this highway For humans as well as steers.

And why protective cables Are not placed where they belong Before some luckless driver Has time to say "so-long."

JOHN T. PECK

Minimum Wage Law

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: President Eisenhower is in favor of increasing the minimum wage from 75 to 90 cents per hour. Organized labor wants $1.25 as the minimum. To my way of reasoning, that would be an excellent way to drive another million or so into the ranks of the permanently unemployed.

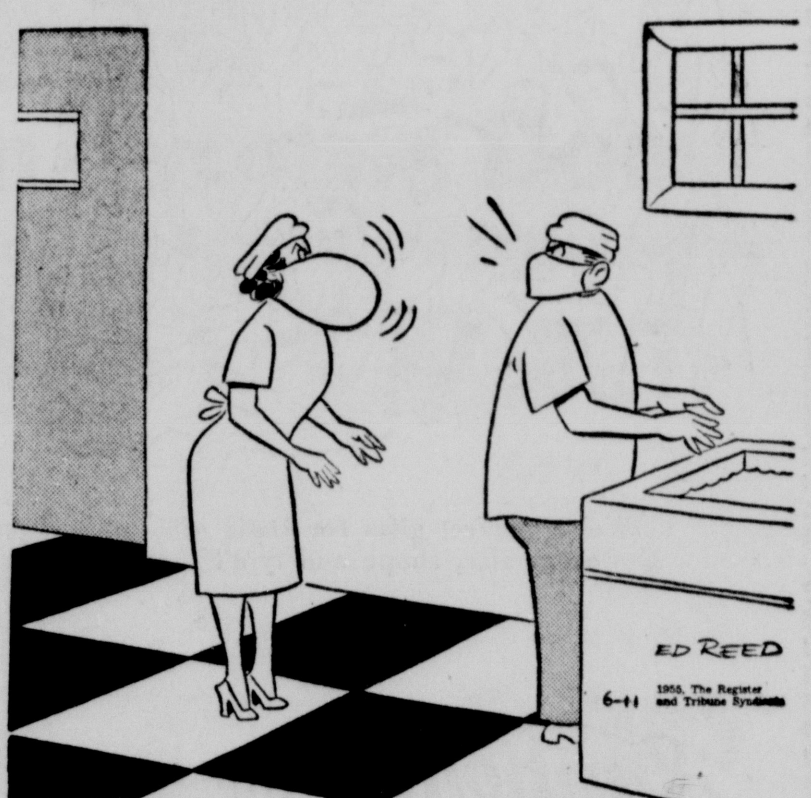

At the present time there are more than 60 million employed in the United States—about 95 per cent full employment. We all know that there are a few seeking employment whose economic value to any employer is zero or less.

There also are many people who because of pension or infirmity would gladly take easy jobs such as operating a little-used elevator or taking care of an occasional telephone call for less than the minimum wage. Many such jobs would come into existence were it not for the wage law. On the other hand, many will go out of existence if a higher minimum is adopted.

Gen. Gruenther Warns Against A Hasty Cold War Settlement With Russians

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther warned Friday it would be "catastrophic" for free world leaders to be panicked into an overhasty cold war settlement with the Russians.

The NATO commander declared "military realities" disprove the theory that the great diplomatic conferences coming up this summer give the free world its last chance for survival.

The "military realities" Gruenther listed for the National Press Club were:

1. Soviet superiority on the ground is offset right now, at least, by the American superiority in intercontinental atomic bombing power.

Any Effort

2. While the American bombing force deters the Russians from attacking, the buildup of European military power and the addition of West German forces to NATO give concrete reason to believe that in three or four years the West will be powerful enough to turn back any Russian effort to invade Europe.

3. If war came today, NATO forces would win it because of their superior strategic air power despite Soviet superiority on the ground and the formidable force of 350 Russian submarines that would make supply lines extremely difficult and hazardous.

Gruenther said the current struggle will be won by "ideological" means and stressed throughout his long talk to a crowded luncheon chamber that the all-essential ingredient for free world success is the continued spiritual support, courage and patience of the 440 million people of the NATO countries.

He said he knows a European statesman who is convinced the West must reach some kind of settlement, any kind of settlement, with the Russians this year or face disaster.

"Catastrophic"

Gruenther said he favors a "modus vivendi" which will permit East and West to live together without war, but that it would be "catastrophic" if the peoples of NATO countries became so fearful they forced their leaders into accepting just any settlement the Russians offered.

The NATO commander said two assumptions are basic to the planning of his headquarters.

The first, he said, is that the Germans will contribute troops. The second is that "we must be able to use atomic weapons to repel aggression."

Smiling Face

He pointed out the Russians recognize the importance of these two factors and are doing everything they can to ban atomic weapons and slow down, or prevent, West German rearmament.

The present Soviet government, Gruenther said, is more dangerous than was the regime of Joseph Stalin because it is presenting a smiling face to the West.

The people of the NATO countries, he said, will have to resist the blandishments of the new Russian tactics. Gruenther warned that "until we get proof that there is substance behind these offers there is nothing for us to do but keep on" developing military power to resist aggression.

PROBERS REPORT MONDAY

The committee investigating "alleged improper practices" in the Legislature Friday completed what members say probably will come close to the report they will give the Legislature Monday. Chairman Brower was given an extra day to complete the report scheduled for Friday.

Frederick Wagener, attorney for Sen. Sam Klaver, Friday submitted a statement to the committee as to what he considered the evidence in the case as differentiated from hearsay and innuendo. This the committee promised to consider in their report.

There was no indication from the five man committee as to what their findings would be.

5 Days of Hearings

Testimony was taken for five days at closed hearings on Sen. Klaver's activities during and prior to the present session. Klaver testified that he had never received or been promised any money for introducing or not introducing any bill.

Much of the evidence was in regard to a trailer park regulation bill which was killed by a committee of which Klaver was chairman after it had been advanced several days previously.

Another feature was testimony by Jerome Witt, Omaha, that Klaver had offered his services as attorney for a coin-operated juke-box group for a fee of $2,500. He had a bill drafted to provide a tax on the machines which was never introduced.

The investigation came as a result of questioning conducted by John Quinn, Lincoln, and Sens. Metzger, Bixler and Martin of witnesses in Omaha. The attorney general then employed Rush Clarke, North Platte, to make further investigations.

Clarke presented sworn statements he had obtained at a public hearing on a bill similar to the bill Klaver had had drafted which was introduced by the revenue committee late in the session. It was killed after the hearing as confiscatory.

A resolution was then introduced authorizing a five man investigating committee to study any irregularities.

Try Will Be Made To Get Truck Tax

Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington Friday was authorized by the state board of equalization to draw up collection certificates to be sent to truck and car lines allegedly delinquent in the payment of taxes.

The list to be sent certificates includes more than 200 interstate truck lines and railroad tank car lines.

Herrington this week posted a field man at the North Platte weighing station to check on the number of interstate trucks, not based in Nebraska, that passed. Taxes on such trucks were paid by 47 interstate carriers last year.

The field man reported 80 non-Nebraska interstate carriers, only nine of which paid taxes last year, passed during the first four hours, Herrington said.

"It isn't much in the way of a tax, but it's on the books, and nobody pays any attention to it," he told the board.

The list of allegedly delinquent lines includes back taxes ranging from one to one thousand dollars.

Drought Cuts Nebraska Wheat Crop To 16 Bu. Acre

Rains Come Too Late For Many Fields

By the Associated Press
The Department of Agriculture predicted a 52,384,000 bushel winter wheat crop for Nebraska in 1955, lopping five bushels per acre from the estimate of a month ago.
This report reflected the ravage of a drought which was broken only in recent weeks. The forecast is 16,370,000 bushels short of the crop forecast a month ago when Nebraska Crops Statistician A. E. Anderson warned that the full toll of the drought had not yet been taken.

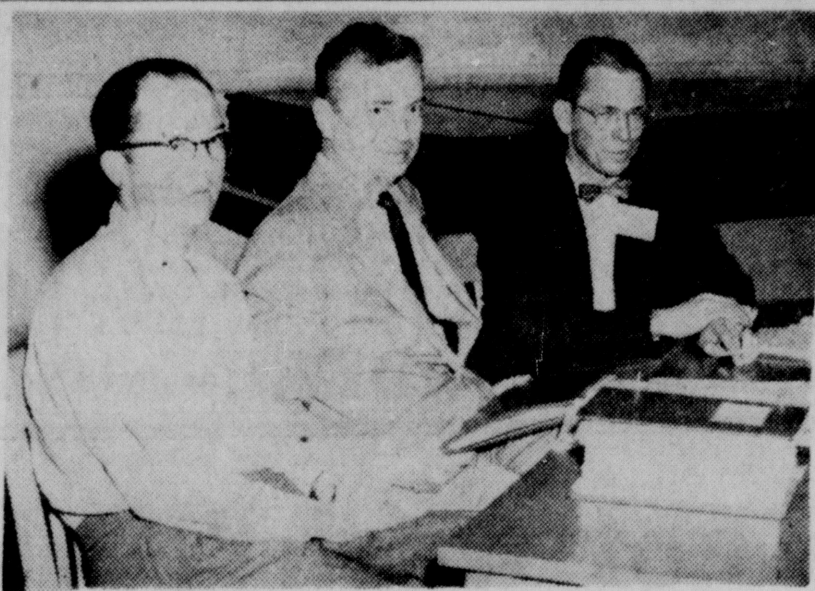

U.S. Figure Drops
For the nation as a whole, the Agriculture Department reported the wheat crop will be about 845 million bushels, the smallest since 1943.
A crop this size would be 13 per cent less than the 1954 production of 970 million bushels and 27 per cent less than average.

Although heavy rains in late May revived some late wheat and saved some marginal fields, earlier hot dry weather had adversely affected many fields in Kansas and Nebraska.
A month ago the Nebraska yield was forecast at 21 bushels per acre. Based on conditions as of June 1 a yield of 16 bushels per acre was forecast.

Ranks 27th
This crop if it materializes at the presently forecast level compares with a 61,200,000 bushel crop in 1954 and an average crop over the last 10 years of 76,671,000 bushels. It would be the 27th largest crop in history.

The next month's report may present a slightly different story, however, since rainfall has been picking up. The monthly summary now being prepared, will show that rainfall in the western part of the state where the big end of the crop is raised was 4.45 inches for the last month, 1.57 inches above normal. In the central portion it averaged 3.05 inches or .37 of an inch below normal and in the east it was 1.87 or 2.11 below normal.

The report showed 3,274,000 acres of winter wheat for harvest a decline of about 600,000 acres from May 1 when the acreage was listed at 3,874,000 bushels. At that time abandonment was listed as 7.3 per cent.

ARAPAHOE — Funeral services were held at Trinity Lutheran Church here for Mrs. Emilie Bloch, 102, resident of Nebraska since 1872. She was a native of Greunberg, Germany.

A. E. Swanson, Office Seeker Often, Is Dead

STROMSBURG, Neb. (P)—Andrew E. Swanson, 71 of Polk, Neb., well known Nebraska political figure, died Friday in a Stromsburg hospital after an illness of 10 days.

A native of St. Edward, he had lived in Polk for the last 40 years. He was a farmer and later a carpenter by trade. He is survived by his widow and four children.

Swanson had sought the nomination for governor both as a Republican and as a Democrat, running as a Democrat in the 1954 primary. He was a Republican candidate for the nomination for lieutenant governor in 1950, and in 1944 and had run several times previously for other offices, including the county treasurership of Polk and Boone Counties and a seat in the State Legislature.

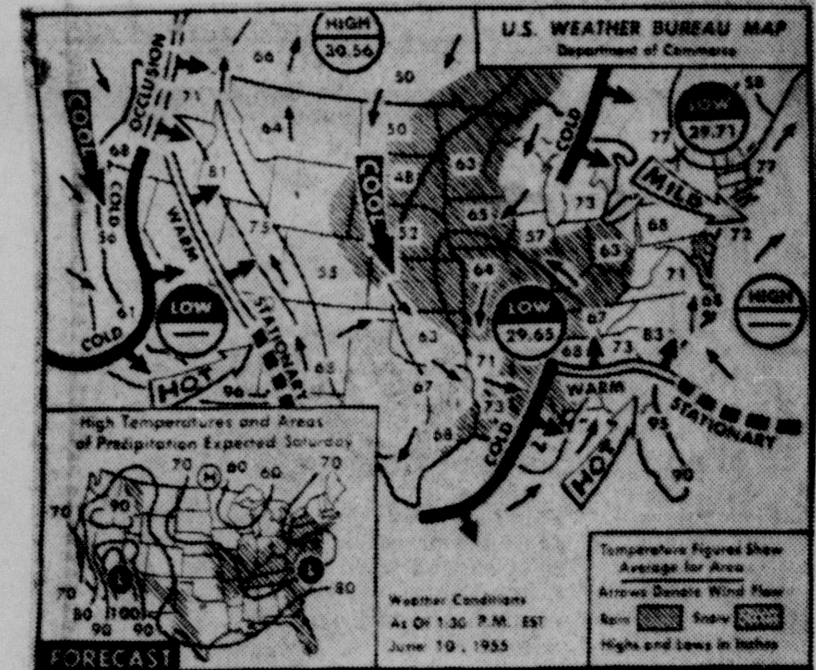

Swanson's immediate survivors include his widow, Alma; two sons and two daughters—Edwin of San Jose, Calif.; Alvin of San Gabriel, Calif.; Mrs. Lloyd Carlson of Arlington, Va.; and Mrs. Roland Swanson of Stromsburg.

Among his colorful campaign statements through the years were a pledge not to go up in an airplane if elected governor, a suggestion that every old person receive $200 from the federal government, a recommendation that all stop signs be done away with.

In 1954 he called for a "pay as you go" sales tax to replace the property tax and eliminate the need for assessors.
Funeral arrangements are pending.

Fort Randall To Neligh Line Is Rejected

WASHINGTON (P)—The House Appropriations Committee refused to approve money for a proposed $940,000 115-kilovolt line to haul power from Fort Randall (SD) Dam on the Missouri River to Neligh, Neb.

The committee also rejected a suggestion by Nebraska interests that it vote money to build a 230-kilovolt line from Fort Randall to Grand Island, Neb.

Congressional sources indicated an effort would be made to have the $940,000 item restored by the Senate.

Nebraskans, testifying some weeks ago before a House Appropriations Subcommittee, concentrated on trying to persuade the Congressmen to build the heavier line in lieu of the shorter, lighter line proposed in the budget.

The committee's report Friday said: "The testimony received indicates that there is a question as to the need for an additional line at a future date to meet all of the power requirements of the Nebraska Public Service System."

"In view of this the committee believes that consideration should be given to the construction of a heavier line at this time instead of entering into the more expensive proposition of one 115 KV line now and another later."

Testimony indicated the 115 KV line would take care of needs in the immediate future but the Nebraska insisted heavier lines would be necessary to bring in sufficient power 6 to 10 years from now when extra electricity will be available from Oahe Dam, now under construction.

Gavins Point Fund Request Slashed Nearly $2 Million

WASHINGTON (P)—The House Appropriations Committee Friday trimmed nearly two million dollars from the funds requested by President Eisenhower for the Gavins Point Reservoir on the Nebraska-South Dakota line.

The big re-regulating dam on the Missouri River is scheduled for closure in mid-summer.

The House Committee recommended 12 million dollars for Gavins Point works, compared with $13,950,000 asked in the President's budget.

The committee left unchanged, however the recommendation of $600,000 for channel stabilization work between Kensler's Bend and Sioux City, Iowa on the Missouri River.

It recommended $3,300,000 for channel work between Kansas City and Omaha and $5,800,000 for work between Omaha and Sioux City, which would include work now in progress at Decatur, Neb., where the Missouri is being swung back under a bridge built on dry land during the river's wanderings.

Agricultural levees in Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri would get $500,000, compared to the $700,000 asked in the budget.

The committee recommended $3,653,000 for planning funds including a flood control project at Norfolk, Neb., but did not specify the amount to be apportioned to each project.

What to do for "TV Stomach"

If you like to "nibble" and drink while watching TV, look out! Don't overdo it! Too often it may lead to acid stomach and hours of night-time tossing. But not if you take 2 Tums—a "nightcap" whenever distress occurs. Tums neutralizes excess acid fast! You sleep better—feel fresher. Always keep Tums handy to counteract gas, heartburn. AROUND THE TOWN

Carolyn Roxberg Weds

MRS. PAUL ROBERT JORDAN

Lighted candles and arrangements of woodwardia and daisies appointed the chancel of the Grace Lutheran Church where the wedding of Miss Carolyn Elizabeth Roxberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol G. Roxberg, and Paul Robert Jordan, son of Mrs. Theodora Jordan, took place on Friday evening, June 10. Dr. Leland H. Leshner, who was assisted by the Vicar Thomas E. Graham, solemnized the 8 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 250 guests. A prelude of wedding music was played by Mrs. Thomas E. Graham who also accompanied John Poutre, the vocal soloist and Charles Palmer, violin soloist.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William A. Barrett, of Salt Lake City, Utah, sister of the bride; and the bridesmaids, Miss Dian Morgan of South Sioux City, Ia., Miss Betty Sorenson, Miss Barbara Martin, Miss Patricia Roehrkasse and Miss Gail Kats-skee appeared in waltz-length frocks of pale yellow crystallette fashioned with shawl collars, each carried a basket filled with yellow and white daisies.

Gordon Metcalf served Mr. Jordan as best man, and the ushers were Wesley Reist, Peter Schmitt, Roger Metcalf, Bernard Wishnow and William A. Barrett of Salt Lake City, Utah.

The bride chose a gown of white tulle over satin for her wedding. A sheer yoke, contoured with a flutter applique of lace medallions, filled in the portrait décolletage of the long-sleeved bodice, snugly fitted above the extremely bouffant tulle-tiered skirt. A crown of lace, dotted with pearls, held to the head her waist-length veil of French illusion and she carried a white Bible ornamented with white orchids showered with Stephanotis.

After the reception was held in the church parlors, the couple left for a wedding journey to Kansas City, Mo. For her traveling costume, the bride chose a black and white cotton suit with white accessories. After June 15, Mr. Jordan and his bride will reside in Lincoln.

Mrs. Jordan is a senior at the University of Nebraska School of Music and is a member of Kappa Delta sorority and Mu Phi Epsilon, music sorority. Mr. Jordan also is a senior at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Sigma Tau and Gamma Lambda fraternities.

GUESTS, golf and weddings seem to be keeping everyone fairly active this week-end—But the activity doesn't stop within the boundaries of Friday and Monday—it goes on—and on, with plans for the summer months that are not only interesting, but exciting—

HOWEVER, one thing at a time—and right now we want to talk about guests who are in town for the golf festivities at the Lincoln Country Club—

The Millers—Mr. and Mrs. John P.—are entertaining visitors from Clinton, Ia., this week-end—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Curtis, Jr. Mr. Curtis arrived in his own plane on Thursday, and Mrs. Curtis planned in late Friday afternoon—in ample time for some of the Saturday fun, and the dinner dance at the club on Saturday evening.

AND from Sioux City, Ia., have come Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mahoney who arrived on Thursday and who are the Swingfest guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pegler and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. O'Shea.

THERE will be dining and dancing at Cotner Terrace Saturday evening when the members of the Safari Dancing Club hold their last party of the season—a "June Bug Jamboree"—and entertain numerous guests—

We hear that the guest list will include Mr. and Mrs. David Diffenderfer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Svenson, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. Max Hayward, Mr. and Mrs. Max Bohmont, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bourg.

IT SEEMS that we closed our guest book too soon, for we just learned that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Galloway and their daughter, Debora, arrived from Red Oak, Ia., on Thursday evening to be the week-end guests of Mr. Galloway's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Galloway. On Sunday the family group will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Galloway and their two daughters, Karen and Linda, who will come from Red Oak.

NOW for news of the summer and who is doing what—and where—The "where" in several instances seems to be Europe—Judging from the news Lincoln neighbors will be meeting Lincoln neighbors along the highways and byways of France, Italy, England, Germany—and interesting points here and there.

We heard this morning that Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel and their daughter, Miss Caroline Schimmel, will be planning off to New York City on June 20—and on June 22 will board the Queen Mary for Europe—The Schimmels go first to Paris—and from there will embark upon a tour of the continent—Their plans call for a late summer visit to England from where they will sail for home.

ALSO among the visitors to Europe this summer will be Sam Ellis and Frank Sidles who sail on the Empress of Europe from Montreal on June 21—Mr. Ellis left last evening for Williams-town, Mass., where Mr. Sidles is completing his year at Williams College, and the boys will go on from there to Montreal. They will return to the States on Aug. 20.

TWO other young men about town—Bruce Martin and Bob Battey, are taking off early

Saturday Wedding

NANCY LOUISE EASTMAN who becomes the bride of William Stockfield at a 10 o'clock ceremony at St. Teresa Church this morning.

Baskets of pink and white carnations and greenery will adorn the altar and sanctuary of St. Teresa's Church for the marriage of Miss Nancy Louise Eastman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Eastman, to William Chris Stockfield, son of Mrs. William C. Stockfield and the late Mr. Stockfield which takes place Saturday morning, June 11. The Right Rev. M. M. Kaczmarek will solemnize the 10 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 300 guests and Miss Mildred Gergen will play the wedding music. Miss Gergen also will accompany the vocal soloist, Louis Demma.

Identically styled princess frocks of crystallette over taffeta, accented with back waistline bows of taffeta, will be worn by the attendants including Mrs. William G. Doran of Denver, who will be her sister's matron of honor and who will be in the yellow tone; Miss Helen Eastman, her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Miss Nancy Reisdorff of Battle Creek; Mrs. William Henke, Mrs. Harvey Bettenhausen and Mrs. Richard Buckley, all in the lavender shade. The costumes will be completed with small crystallette-over-taffeta hats, and each will carry a colonial bouquet of yellow and pink carnations. Richard Johnson will serve Mr. Stockfield as best man, and the ushers will be Allen Gilmore, Harold Weller, Rhine Dittenber, Irvin Reitz and Richard Wellentine.

The bridal gown of tulle-over-satin is designed with a long-sleeved bodice, patterned with applique and finished at the throat with a Peter Pan collar, above an extremely bouffant skirt fashioned of inset panels of embroidered tulle and ending in a cathedral train. A cap of embroidered tulle over satin holds in place the double-tiered veil of illusion, and she will carry a cascade bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a reception in the church parlors followed by a buffet luncheon at the home of the bride's parents.

Following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks, the couple will reside at 1127 No. 66th St.

Mrs. Stockfield will graduate in August from the St. Elizabeth School of Nursing. Mr. Stockfield is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and is attending graduate school of social work at the University of Nebraska.

Auto Tax Valuation Upped 6%

State Board Sets '55 Figure

New and used car assessments for 1955 will be increased by a flat six per cent.

This was agreed upon by the State Board of Equalization Friday.

The board's final decision represents a cut from the 15 per cent hike in new car assessments recommended early this year by the State Tax Commissioner's office.

Car dealers had protested the earlier recommendations in a public hearing, and the board has met several times to consider the problem. Several possible changes in formula were discussed, but the increase approved Friday retains the formula used in 1954.

Trucks Postponed

A final decision on truck assessments was postponed for later consideration.

Earlier in its meeting Friday, the board decided to use the same formula for 1955 franchise assessments that was used last year.

Franchise assessments determine the taxes pipelines and telephone companies pay for the right of doing business in Nebraska. These taxes are in addition to real estate and property taxes.

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington told the board he "doesn't think much" of the present board but recommended that "no violent changes" be made until a full study of the formula is made.

The budget bill now pending in the Legislature appropriates $10,000 for a study of utility assessments to be made by Herrington's office.

'Hold The Line

"Personally, I feel we should pretty much hold the line on franchise assessments until we investigate them," Harrington said.

He suggested to the board, however, that a formula might better be based on net income instead of gross income of the companies so that they would receive tax credit for improvements made.

Herrington also criticized the manner in which the franchise assessment formula is partially geared to decisions of county assessors on property tax assessments.

The board also decided to maintain the same formula for Pullman assessments that was used last year.

The board's decision on franchise and Pullman assessments can be protested by the companies involved. If protests are filed, a public hearing will be held by the board.

BASILIO IS NEW WELTER CHAMPION

Chiefs Get One Hit—Win 5-0

Hall Throws Two-Hitter To Gain Sixth Victory On Rainy Night

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Wichita's Bob Harrison learned Friday night that there's no justice in this world as he pitched a one-hitter against the Lincoln Chiefs and got beat, 5-0.

Adding irony to the situation was the fact that Dick Hall was two hits and won his sixth game of the year.

Hall showing masterful control—he walked only one—had a no-hitter going into the eighth inning, but leadoff Batter Jack O'Donnell—a pitcher, no less—singled to right to spoil things.

Rain held up the contest for 32 minutes during the third inning, but the long wait didn't bother the pitchers who gave the crowd of 614 every nickel's worth.

The victory pulled the Chiefs to within a game and a half of the league-leading Indians. Lincoln has a chance to narrow the gap again tonight as Bill Nordberg (3-1) or Benny Daniels (4-2) goes against Wichita's Gene Weglar (1-2).

Harrison—the his two wins came at Lincoln's expense earlier in the season—wasn't touched for a hit until the second out in the sixth. But when he yielded it cost him the game.

With Howie Padgett on third and Warren Goodrich on second—a walk arranged this—Jack Falls drove in two tallies with a line double to left-center field and that was all Hall needed.

Three more runs were added to the Chiefs' total in the seventh on a freak play that saw a batter circle the bases to score without getting a hit.

Frank Rice led off with a base on balls and was sacrificed to.

second. He moved to third when Harry Dunlop bounced out at first. With two away, Rice broke for the plate with the pitch to Bobby Reynolds in an attempt to steal home. It looked like he might have made it, but the pitch hit Reynolds and the ball became dead. Rice went back to third; Reynolds went to first.

Then came the corker.

Padgett's half-swing bounced the ball to Harrison whose throw to first was wild and sailed up against the rightfield bleacher barrier. Before Rightfielder Mike Gaspar could retrieve the ball, Rice and Reynolds scored and Padgett moved to third on the error.

Gaspar's peg to the plate was wild and got away from Catcher Ray McCleod. So Padgett took out for home and slid in safely before Harrison—backing up the catcher—could get the ball back to McCleod.

Wichita never threatened. Hall put the Indians down in order in the first, second, third, fifth, sixth and seventh. He walked George Hallow in the fourth, but a popup and a strikeout killed the Indian on first.

After O'Donnell's rap, Hall got the next five batters in succession and it looked like he, too, might post a one-hitter. But with tow away in the ninth Hallow drilled a base rap to right.

But Gaspar forced Hallow at second to end the contest.

Dick, who spends his non-hurling nights in leftfield, fanned 10 Indians and seldom got behind on a batter.

Harrison registered eight strikeouts, but a like number of walks might have meant more trouble for him if the Chiefs had been able to solve his deliveries.

Smoke Signals... Regular Wichita Centerfielder Juan Senties was out of action following an operation on a cyst. He may be ready for tonight's game.

Ralph Weingartner, WL executive secretary, was a press box visitor.

Des Moines dropped from fourth to sixth last night. Up-and-coming Pueblo skipped to fourth, eight games back of Wichita.

The sudden rain shower caused several light bulbs to explode before the arcs could be turned off.

Bruins Beaten On One-Hitter

DES MOINES, Ia. (AP)—Manager Les Peden's single down the left-field line with one out in the seventh inning was Des Moines' only hit as Glenn McMinin posted a 4-0 Pueblo victory Friday night.

McMinin walked only two. The Dodgers committed five errors but Des Moines was unable to get a runner as far as second base until the ninth inning.

SIoux CITY, Ia. (AP)—Including five home runs in a 16-hit attack against two Colorado Springs servers, Sioux City backed up Andy Pane's four-hit pitching for a 9-3 victory Friday night. The win hauled the Soos out of the Western League cellar, Des Moines dropping into the dungeon.

61 Posted By Two Teams Tops Swingfest Scores

Two teams, Don Pegler Sr. and his guest partner Joe Dyer, Denver, Colo., and Dick Ricketts and guest Ed Lyman of Omaha, posted low-ball scores of 61 Friday to lead the field in the first round of play in the annual Lincoln Country Club Swingfest.

The 83 teams entered in the event will play another 18 holes today and the affair will wind up at an awards dinner and dance tonight.

The two low teams head par on the 36-72 course by 11 strokes. Pegler and Dyer each have a seven-stroke handicap, while Ricketts is 13 and Lyman's 8.

The leaders were but one stroke ahead of three other teams at the end of Friday's play.

Bunched at 62 were Ted Sick and H. R. Berglund, Denver, Colo.; Don North and Henry Kosman, Scottsbluff, and Linus Southwick and Wiley Green, Wauneta.

Giardello Is Sentenced To Jail Term In Beating

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Joey Giardello, high-ranking middleweight fighter, Friday was sentenced to a County Prison term of 6 to 18 months as the aftermath of a street corner row in which he was accused of beating a service station attendant with a crutch.

Judge Edward P. Little, who presided at Giardello's recent trial, admitted the boxer to $1,500 bond pending an appeal which Giardello's attorney, Michael Von Moschisch, said he would file with the Pennsylvania Superior Court.

Giardello was convicted last March 16 on five counts of assault and riot. He was accused specifically of taking part in the beating of attendant Howard Short, 29, at a South Philadelphia gasoline station on Oct. 29, 1954.

Used Crutch

During the 24-year-old fighter's trial, it was testified he hit Short with a crutch which Giardello was using at the time because of an auto accident leg injury.

Three companions pleaded guilty to two charges of riot and two of the three pleaded guilty to an additional count of assault and battery.

Victor Mariani, 24, and Joseph Bonadies, also 24, admitted both the riot and assault charges, while Pasquale Concilio, 22, denied the assault portion of the indictment.

Giardello, whose real name is Carmine Tiliello, appeared in court nattily dressed in a grey suit and matching gray tie. He heard sentence pronounced with no outward show of emotion.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Little—a Susquehanna County jurist named to preside at the trial here—suspended sentence on two counts and directed that Giardello pay the costs of the trial. The jurist also ordered the fighter to make restitution for damage to the service station.

Earlier, Judge Little denied a defense motion for a new trial. In a plea for leniency, Attorney Von Moschisch said Giardello had been arrested only once previously for corner lounging.

"He is a family man," said the attorney. "He has a wife and two children, and a baby, who is permanently ill, whose hospital bills are being paid in full by this man. He is a prize fighter who has not been able to fight since the verdict."

Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash told the court "Proper respect for law enforcement in the city requires a prison sentence for Giardello."

The other three principals in the case will be sentenced at a later date. Through a misunderstanding, they were not notified to appear in court Friday.

Bloody Scrap Ends DeMarco's Short Reign In Twelfth Round

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Carmen Basilio ended welterweight champion Tony DeMarco's reign at one fight and 70 days Friday night by pouncing out a technical knockout in 1:52 of the 12th round at War Memorial Auditorium.

A 17-10 favorite, the 28-year-old ex-Marine from nearby Canastota touched off a wild scene by dropping the 23-year-old Bostonian twice in the 10th round to turn the tide of a fiery and bloody scrap.

After that, Basilio, getting his second shot at the title that barely eluded him 21 months ago against Kid Gavilan, calmly went after the lion-hearted champion.

He chopped away with both hands to the bleeding face of the wobbling but still firing champion until Referee Harry Kessler stepped in and wrapped his arms around the gallant defender.

The pro-Basilio capacity crowd of 9,170, which paid $119,794, let loose with a tremendous roar when Basilio's arm was raised in triumph.

Basilio's mother and wife climbed into the ring to kiss the new champion, who also was bleeding from cuts. All of Basilio's large family was present for this great moment of the clan. The family includes the father and mother, six sisters and three brothers.

Both fighters are solid left hookers but it was a right by Basilio which sent the aggressive DeMarco to the canvas for the first time. They were mixing it up in a brisk exchange when Basilio suddenly staggered the 5-5½ Bostonian with a right to the jaw.

Tearing after his stricken foe, Basilio shot over two more rights to the jaw and down went Tony for seven. Blood streaming from cuts over both eyes and his nose, DeMarco got up and ran into another salvo. A left hook sent him on his back with his head pulling down the lower rope.

Gable as they come, DeMarco wobbled at his feet again at seven.

Somehow he managed to last out the round but he was on Queer Street. He staggered on rubbery legs away from his corner and had to be led back. Dr. Charles Heck examined him between rounds and it seemed that the champion would not be able to come out for the 11th.

Come out he did, however, and he came out swinging. He tore after Basilio with swinging blows that carried all of his power, especially in his left hook. He was hoping for a knockout. Basilio

Erskine Hurls 4-Hitter, Homers To Defeat Cubs

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers squashed the upstart Chicago Cubs 7-0 Friday night behind the four-hit pitching of Carl Erskine who helped his own cause by crashing the first home run of his major league career.

The Brooks themselves managed only five hits off the combined offerings of Sad Sam Jones, Dave Hillman and John Andre. But three of them were homers and they told the story. In addition to Erskine, Pee Wee Reese and Roy Campanella (No. 18 of the year) cashed in.

In tossing his eighth triumph against two setbacks, Erskine never was in trouble. He yielded one hit in the first, another in the fourth, one in the sixth and one in the seventh. Only one was for extra bases, Gene Baker's double in the fourth. He walked only one.

It was a good pitchers' battle between Erskine and Jones for the first four innings, with the Brooks ahead by 1-0 as a result of an unearned run in the third. After Carl Furillo walked, Junior Gilliam was safe when Dee Fondy fumbled his grounder, Furillo went to third on the play and scored when Reese forced Gilliam.

But the Brooks broke it open in the fifth with three runs. Erskine opened with his homer. Then Gilliam walked and Reese sent one into the left field stands.

Brownell Approval Reported On Compromise Treaty Limitation Amendment

... Patterned After George Substitute

WASHINGTON (INS) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell was reported Friday to have approved a compromise treaty-limitation amendment patterned after the George substitute for the original Bricker plan.

Brownell's endorsement of the "substantial" form of the substitute was said to have been conveyed through Justice Orie L. Phillips, chief judge of the 10th Circuit Court in Denver, who is active in the amendment negotiations as leader in the American Bar Association.

Sen. Walter F. George's substitute for the constitutional amendment sponsored by Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) failed to pass the Senate last year by a margin of only one vote.

Since then supporters of the original Bricker proposal have been trying to work out a compromise satisfactory to President Eisenhower and his chief advisers, who fear restrictions on his constitutional powers.

Informed sources said that Phillips conferred with the attorney general during a two-day Washington visit.

Bricker was in Ohio but friends indicated he would go along with a compromise that followed the Georgia Democrat's substitute if there were satisfactory "interpretations" making clear its meaning.

Whether Brownell has the final approval of Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the compromise remained unclear.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has taken no active role in the discussions this year.

Willing

President Eisenhower told his news conference on April 27:

"If it would reassure the people of the United States to have an amendment saying that any treaty or executive agreement in conflict with the Constitution shall have no force or effect, I am perfectly willing to say it but I will go no further."

Bricker at that time said there was nothing in the President's statement that he could "complain about."

Dulles, who sharply opposed the Bricker plan last year, was more conciliatory when he testified again this spring before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, which is not expected to take any further action until Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill.), returns from an overseas trip in three or four weeks.

Act of Congress

The George substitute, which received 61 votes — one short of the needed two-thirds to pass a constitutional amendment — states simply:

"A provision of a treaty or other international agreement which conflicts with this constitution shall not be of any force or effect."

"An international agreement other than a treaty shall become effective as internal law in the United States only by an act of the Congress."

It adds that a roll call vote is required in ratifying a treaty.

Wildcat Walkouts Are Ended

Contract Talks Are Resumed

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers union stomped out the last of a dozen wildcat strikes at General Motors plants Friday and went back into contract talks with the company, openly expecting a new offer.

UAW Vice President John W. Livingston used an indirect means of expressing the union's anticipation.

Livingston was asked whether GM had yet come up with a second counter proposal to the union's demand for a guaranteed annual wage. He replied:

"You've heard the expression, 'The duke has arrived.' Well, the duke is lurking in the shadows."

Implication Clear

(No one among a battery of newsmen, public relations men and other company and union officials was familiar with the expression. But the implication was clear to all.)

General Motors and the union reported Friday that the last of the wildcats—at the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant at South Gate, Calif.—had been ended.

The union's deadline for settlement, postponed from last Tuesday midnight, now is set for Sunday midnight.

But with that deadline only a little more than 48 hours away, nobody on either side seemed worried.

Steel Talks Recessed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — CIO United Steelworkers negotiators Friday completed presentation of their case for a "substantial" pay boost to six of the nation's largest basic steel producers.

Talks with Jones & Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Inland Steel recessed indefinitely, marking the end of the initial phase of 1955 negotiations.

Officials of the three firms thus joined executives of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic in getting down to serious study of the USW demands. The latter heard union arguments in previous conferences.

Shortly before the first round of talks drew to a close Friday, USW President David J. McDonald went before union bargaining committees at a closed meeting to review union objectives and to sum up the negotiations to date. Union spokesmen declined to discuss what he said.

STOCK GROWERS HEAR OMAHA'S GROWTH CITED

The growth of Omaha into a position of leadership in slaughtering and meat packing was cited by Harry B. Coffee, president of the Union Stock Yards Co. of Omaha, in an address before the approximate 600 delegates to the convention of the Nebraska Stock Growers Association.

For the first five months of this year, Coffee said, Omaha has been 25 per cent ahead of Chicago in federally inspected slaughtering, has slaughtered more than 6 per cent more hogs and twice as many sheep. Slaughter house receipts in Omaha, he said, are 1 3/10 per cent ahead of Chicago for the year to date.

Coffee spoke also of the importance of the livestock industry to the industrial economy of the state.

A thorough study of Nebraska's school lands situation was promised the cattlemen by Carl Dietmeyer of Lincoln, vice chairman of the newly-appointed Board of Educational Lands and Funds.

A recommended program of improvements will be made to the 1957 Legislature, he said, and the school lands picture will be much different two years from now.

The Legislature this year turned down bills to sell the state owned lands or to lower rentals. Leaseholders, including many cattlemen, have protested rent increases of recent years.

In another address, the stock growers were told by Jay Taylor of Amarillo, Tex., president of the American National Cattlemen's Association, that the extent of future beef promotion and education campaigns will depend upon the evidence of industry-wide support during the new few years.

Taylor told the Nebraska cattlemen that the nation's cowmen are beginning to realize that cooperation is of extreme value in strengthening the cattle industry.

"Our realization that the problems of the rangemen and feeders are mostly synonymous," he said, "has been a tremendous stride forward in building a cattle and beef industry capable of meeting all problems."

The convention will close with final business sessions and election of officers Saturday morning.

NU Alums Can Be Active, Dynamic Group—Dr. Hardin

University of Nebraska alumni living in the state "have a challenging opportunity" to become an active, dynamic group willing to explain to all Nebraska citizens the stringent demands which will be placed upon the university in the next 10 years.

This statement was made by Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin in an address to the University Alumni Association board of directors meeting Friday.

Dr. Hardin said the 40,000 former students living in the state ought to be marshaled into a "vital force for higher education."

Demands which the University must meet, Dr. Hardin said, include:

1. The desire for more high school graduates to enter the university which may swell enrollment to double or triple the number now attending.

2. An expanding economy which will require more and more incentives for young persons to find careers in teaching and research.

3. Increasing industrialization of Nebraska which will impose an additional training and research burden.

4. An acceleration of changes in methods of producing food, and the by-products of the agriculture enterprise due in part to new applications of atomic energy.

Secretary James S. Pittenger, in his annual report of progress of the association, stressed the need for continued emphasis on state organizations for the coming year.

He said that the income from dues during 1954-55 was the highest in history, as was the circulation of the Nebraska Alumnus, monthly publication of the association.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska:

Temperatures through Wednesday will average near normal northwest to slightly below normal southeast; normal lows 54 west, 59 east; normal high near 83; warming over end-end. Precipitation will average 1/4 inch or less, occurring as showers again about Wednesday.

Parliament Hands Adenauer Setback

... Lawmakers Balk At Rearmament Bill

BOONN, Germany (AP)—The West German Parliament balked Friday at rearmament measures, charging the government was acting with "undignified haste." It was a startling setback for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on the eve of his top-level talks with Western statesmen.

The Bundesrat—upper house—refused to give immediate support to a government bill to put the first volunteer West German soldiers into uniform this summer.

It complained the legislation was "unclear on a number of basic questions" and sent the bill back to the government with a strongly worded resolution demanding clarification of the way future forces are to be raised.

Unanimous Action

The resolution—adopted unanimously despite Adenauer's two-thirds majority—asked how the democratic rights of future soldiers were to be protected and how Parliament was to be in-sured control of the military.

Speakers expressed fear the 250-word bill could be used to escape civilian brakes on a military administration.

The Bundesrat action does not kill the bill. But it means the strong-willed chancellor will have to use all his parliamentary skill to get it through the Bundesrat—lower house. Then, if still not satisfied that there are enough safeguards, the Bundesrat can impose further delay.

Wants Show of Unity

Adenauer wants to demonstrate Western unity and strength by getting rearmament under way before the planned Big Four "summit" meeting in July.

It will take months to pass the 20 detailed laws needed for full legalization of rearmament. The volunteer bill was designed as a short cut to permit some 10,000 officers and men to be called up for preliminary training.

Health Department Members To See Setup In Topeka

A visit to the combined city hospital in Topeka, Kan., will be made soon by members of the City Council and County Commission to check on operations there of the City-County Health Department.

Accompanying the group will be Dr. James T. Goode, director of the city-county health department here, and Richard Harnsberger, deputy county attorney.

The Stormont-Vale Hospital there has been pointed up as a probable example of a hospital merger for the city of Lincoln.

The City-County Health Department in Lincoln has been forced to inquire for new space due to the coming expansion with two judges of the Municipal Court. The court expansion would take away about half of the space facilities now used by the health department.

Under the Topeka system, the out-patient treatment is handled through the facilities of the combined hospital. The visitation and sanitation services are quartered in the municipal building.

Both the county and city have named committees to settle the question of where the local health department will be moved. The new judge will take office in 1957 and it is hoped there will be quarters ready for him by then.

Second Tour Car

DETROIT (AP)—A new car sailed right through Mrs. Liptack's second tour window. It was launched when an auto haulaway truck roared off an expressway exit ramp and crashed into the Liptack home. The driver said his brakes failed. Two other new cars remained on the truck.

IKE'S CABINET 'VERY CONGENIAL GROUP' HERBERT BROWNELL SAYS

Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. was full of praise for the Eisenhower Administration Friday night when he told the Nebraska Society of Mayflower Descendants that the Cabinet was "a very congenial group."

He said there was less working for "cross purposes" than in any other presidential Cabinet in history.

Brownell, a deputy governor general of the Mayflower Society, was the speaker at their 32nd semi-annual meeting at the Lincoln Hotel.

One of the greatest accomplishments this year, he said, was the unification of Europe against Com-

Mrs. Helen Jewell Rites On Saturday; Was Early Teacher

Services for Mrs. Helen L. Jewell, 83, 927 So. 15th, will be at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Ropers, the Rev. Alfred Johnson officiating.

Mrs. Jewell, a Lincoln resident 41 years, died Thursday. Burial will be in Fairview.

Born in Illinois, she came to Nebraska in 1931 with her parents, members of a group that founded Bellwood in the old Savannah Township in Butler County. At 16 she became one of the first school teachers in the township.

After her marriage to George W. Jewell they farmed in Antelope County and later engaged in farming and ranching and the lumber business in Butler County. He died in 1941.

Mrs. Jewell was a leading dressmaker in Lincoln from 1915 until the late 1930's when ill health forced her gradual retirement.

Mrs. Jewell was an accomplished musician and instructor in piano.

Between 1900 and 1920 she was accompanist for nationally known violinists and cellists including the late Henry Steckelberg and August Hagenow who organized and directed the original Nebraska State Band.

Pallbearers and honorary pallbearers will be J. H. Armstrong, Walter A. Bennett, Ivan E. Jones, James R. Reed, Floyd Mosher, Raymond Swiener, Clifford Hubbell, Emil Fahrlander and Joe Fahnestock.

Power Suit May End Out Of Court

Frank Haumont, Broken Bow, president of the Custer County Rural Public Power District, said Friday he believes an out of court settlement will be reached in Nebraska's public power law suit.

"If the litigation is permitted to go to its conclusion, that would take, at least a year and a half," said Haumont. "That would be intolerable."

Haumont conferred briefly with Gov. Anderson Friday.

He said he believes "progress is being made" toward a reorganization of public power in the state that would produce "a class A credit rating for revenue bonds acceptable to the rural."

Brownell, a deputy governor general of the Mayflower Society, was the speaker at their 32nd semi-annual meeting at the Lincoln Hotel.

One of the greatest accomplishments this year, he said, was the unification of Europe against Communist expansion tactics. He praised Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as a capable man with a "keen analysis" of world problems.

-Hatmaker Denies 'Tip'- Bribe Suspect Swears He Deserves A Medal

... Lev May Get Perjury Charges

WASHINGTON (INS)—Hatmaker Harry Lev swore Friday he deserves "a congressional medal" but senators investigating charges that he bribed federal personnel threatened him with perjury action instead.

The Chicagoan denied getting an advance tip on a two million dollar sailor hat contract in 1953 and offered "with the permission of the Senate" to give Sen. George Bender (R-Ohio), any profits from the deal.

Lev has testified that he does not expect to make any money on the contract for 6,823,000 sailor hats.

He vehemently denied charges that he was awarded the contract with neither a plant nor a payroll in Puerto Rico to carry it out. He also denied bribing a contracts administrator $2,000 to get preliminary word about it.

It was Lev's insistence that he ordered sewing machines prior to getting the contract that led Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD), to propose that the Senate Investigations subcommittee ask a Grand Jury to see if the witness was lying.

Can't Remember

Lev, on the witness stand for the fourth day, asked incredulously: "A Grand Jury?"

Lev's testimony conflicted with that of Charles J. Meise, a sewing machine company representative, who said Lev placed his order on May 11, 1953, but asked him to date it May 1. Meise said he couldn't remember why.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) called a special Saturday hearing to wind up Lev's testimony, if possible, and complete the current phase of the group's search for graft in military clothing procurement.

Lev bucked up against a mounting maze of conflicts, including some of his own creation in his malapropistic efforts to defend his

Stocks Hit Fourth Record In Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Another new record high—the fourth this week—was scored Friday by a strong stock market.
Railroads contributed the most strength in late trading and kept the entire market over the top to a new peak.
Lots of other major divisions had a hand in the rise as well, and there were few backward divisions in the list.

Gains amounted to 1 to 3 points, frequently, and some prices pushed their advantage on to around 5 points. Losses were almost all fractional.

The market opened lower, a continuation of the selling that depressed prices Thursday. Within the first hour, however, the betterment began with the railroads in demand. Buyers sought out railroads, airlines, oils, and some chemicals together with the steel and railroads.

The Associated Press advised that 60 stocks were up $1.20 at $169.20, the fourth time this week that the average has reached a new record.
